

“Hate Spaces,” a Film about On-Campus Antisemitism

Will be shown at

Temple Israel of Natick

Thursday, September 14, 8:00 pm

- This film is part of a national campaign to educate and mobilize the Jewish community and the American public to respond effectively to the increasing hostility toward Jewish students and Israel on college campuses. "Hate Spaces," says Alan Dershowitz, "is a wake-up call to the Jewish community and to civil society in America about the institutionalization of bigotry on college campuses."
- Charles Jacobs, head of Americans for Peace and Tolerance, which produced the film, will speak after the screening to suggest actions we can take to ensure the security of our children and fight anti-Israel and Antisemitic propaganda.

The program is sponsored by the Temple Israel of Natick's Israel Action Committee and the Framingham-Natick

Chapter of Hadassah. There is no charge.
