CJP Announces Emergency Day School Scholarship Programs for New and Returning Families

CJP has created an emergency scholarship fund to help keep children in the day schools they know and love. In the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic, CJP is announcing an emergency scholarship fund in the hope that no student has to withdraw from their Jewish day school solely based on a change in their family's economic circumstances.

Day schools and the communities they create are important sources of comfort and support to families, especially in difficult and uncertain times. CJP wants to ensure that families can continue to turn to this lifeline and draw strength from their school communities.

In addition, CJP is extending scholarship support to middle-tier income families who are new to or are considering Jewish day school for their rising kindergartners this fall.

JF&CS is here to help!

The COVID-19 crisis is impacting families throughout our community. As we all work on adjusting to our new, albeit temporary, normal, we are left trying to create new routines in our lives. With schools, day programs, and places of employment closed, this is particularly important for individuals with disabilities and their families. Predictable structure is vitally important for this population, but it is very difficult to create and provide, especially during a time of such uncertainty.

If you or anyone you know has a loved one who is currently at home and is missing their daily structure, feeling isolated and bored, and/or is displaying behaviors that could benefit from some interventions, we can provide assistance! Please contact us to schedule a FREE phone call or video meeting so we can help you put together a schedule for your loved one and troubleshoot any challenging behaviors they are exhibiting.

Contact us at drn@jfcsboston.org or 781-693-5640, and we will connect you with a staff member who can provide coaching and support during this crisis.
